Faith 20/20

Fall 2022

How can we flourish in our faith together?

September 18–October 2

Does the Bible Tell Me So?

Speaker:
Ben Rhodes

Does God help those who help themselves? Do Christians go to heaven when they die? Is faith supposed to be childlike? We often answer these questions based on what we learned in Sunday School as kids. But are our answers accurate? And if not, does it make a difference? Join us as we examine these questions – and others! – to see what the Bible tells us about these topics.

October 9

Rebel Artists in Burma

Speaker:
Stephen Minus

Filmmaker Stephen Minus (Thet Oo Maung) makes films that give an insider's view of Burma. Four artists in Burma share their reaction to the brutal crackdown.

October 16–30

After the Exile: A Second Chance for Israel

Speaker:
Kirk Livingston

Exiled Jews returned to rebuild Jerusalem around 500-600 B.C. They rebuilt the wall and the temple and took a renewed interest in the text, but also split families apart in their earnestness. Three stories from the Second Temple period suggest how to hear from God after you've screwed up and get a second chance.

November 6–27

The Influence of a Theology of Place on the Theme of Social Justice

Speaker:
Ken Young

God has always had a heart for Social Justice. We will be identifying God's heart and His intention for Social justice by examining the recurring theme of the Garden throughout scripture.

December 4–18

The Story and Practice of Bible Translation

Speaker:
Jenine Brown

In this series, we'll explore Bible translation past and present. After a brief history of English Bible translation, we'll consider different translation philosophies and practices that inform contemporary translations. Dr. Brown will share some of her own experiences in Bible translation, and particularly from her work on the team that revises the New International Version (NIV).

Sunday Mornings at Salem are a rich resource of spiritual nurture. Along with two worship services, we have Christian Education Classes for all ages from 10:10-10:50 a.m. Adults who want to grow their Christian thinking and community will find three experiences to choose from. Faith 20/20 meets in the Lounge, Adult Sunday School meets in the Fellowship Hall, and Encouragers, a new small group designed for Millennials (ages 25–45) meets in Room 13.
